

Cookie policy

In accordance with Article 129, 1 ° of the Electronic Communications Act of 13 June 2005, POM Limburg wants to inform its visitors of the website about the use of cookies. On your first visit to our website, we request permission to enable cookies. Cookies are small text files that are placed on the hard drive of the website visitors' computer. They contain information such as the visitor's language preference, so that he or she does not have to re-enter that information during a subsequent visit to the same website.

It is possible that during a visit to our website a cookie is recorded on the hard disk of the visitor. Cookies facilitate the visit to the website and help us to store user preferences and visitor information and to follow trends in use. However, we make no connection between the information stored by cookies and nominative data concerning visitors to our website.

Cookies usually also have an expiration date. For example, some cookies are automatically deleted when you close your browser, while others remain on your computer for a longer period of time, sometimes even until you delete them manually.

Below you can read more about the cookies used by and through our website and for what purposes.

Our website uses Google Analytics cookies. A cookie is placed via our website from the American company Google, as part of the Google Analytics and Doubleclick services. We use these services to keep track of and get reports on how visitors use the website. Google may provide this information to third parties if required to do so by law, or where third parties process the information on Google's behalf. We have no influence on this.

You can set your browser so that you no longer receive new cookies or only certain types of cookies during your next visits to the website. The method differs per browser: possibly consult the help function of your browser. There you can also find how you can delete previously placed cookies. If you no longer wish to receive cookies, you must change these settings in all browsers and on all computers/devices that you use. If you refuse and/or remove cookies, you may not be able to use all the features of the website or you may not have access to certain parts of the website.

Please read this cookie policy in conjunction with our privacy statement in which you can find more information about our organization and operation.

We have the right to change this cookie statement. This cookie policy was last changed on 09/05/2019.